

FOLLOW UP RESOURCES FROM MUSICAL THEATER LECTURE

Thank you for the wonderful participation and the questions you asked during the Musical Theater Lecture this morning. In addition to my PowerPoint that Monica will share with you, I wanted to share a few more links that pertain to some of the questions that were asked regarding singing different vocal styles healthily and where to find dance classes.

Pedagogy Resources and Insights for the visual learner:

"The Voice-Insights into the Physiology of Singing and Speaking." Be sure to purchase it in English. This documentary shows the inside view of the voice in nearly every genre of singing and everything from beatboxing to yodeling. It is an invaluable resource to teachers and students alike!

<https://www.helbling-verlag.de/?pagename=product&product=S8007CR#toc>

One of the questions that came up was how to sing rock n roll healthily. Here is an inside view of a Steven Tyler's voice post voice therapy, "Out on a Limb." Worth the $3.99 to rent on

Amazon: <https://www.amazon.com/Steven-Tyler-Out-Limb/dp/B07CV4M5TD>

Dance Classes:

Online:

If you want a low pressure and affordable place to start, Dance Plug is a good option. They offer: ballet, jazz, hip hop, bollywood etc. Free Trial and only $20 a month after: <https://www.danceplug.com/classes>

For the more dedicated dance pursuer who wants to invest more seriously in dance, Broadway Dance Center offers a variety of group dance classes as well as individual dance classes:

<http://www.broadwaydancecenter.com/training/independent-training-program>

FREE online dance classes through the American Ballet Theater:

<https://www.broadwayworld.com/article/10-Free-Online-Dance-Classes-to-Take-from-Home-20210116>

In Person Dance Lessons Nationwide:

<https://www.fredastaire.com>

Also, many universities offer dance classes as an elective! Something to check in your course catalog!